II. Basis for Jurisdiction

Federal courts are courts of limited jurisdiction (limited power). Generally, only two types of cases can be heard in federal court: cases involving a federal question and cases involving diversity of citizenship of the parties. Under 28 U.S.C. § 1331, a case arising under the United States Constitution or federal laws or treaties is a federal question case. Under 28 U.S.C. § 1332, a case in which a citizen of one State sues a citizen of another State or nation and the amount at stake is more than $75,000 is a diversity of citizenship case. In a diversity of citizenship case, no defendant may be a citizen of the same State as any plaintiff.

What is the basis for federal court jurisdiction? (check all that apply)

3. The Amount in Controversy

The amount in controversy-the amount the plaintiff claims the defendant owes or the amount at stake-is more than $75,000, not counting interest and costs of court, because (explain):

The plaintiff draws loans that were not necessary and had to spend time meeting program standards, rights were violated also

See attached

IV. Relief

Statement of Claim

In 2019 and 2020 the plaintiff attended the Criminal Justice Masters program at Arizona State University's online service.

The department violated a rule about how transfer courses were to be considered. The university did not allow the courses, even though another state university did which shared an agreement and status with ASU. Disallowing the courses caused a financial loss. Furthermore, the department refused to allow appropriate institutional processes. An attempted appeal was made to the Board of Regents, the student regent, and the governor's office as regent. All rejected inquiry and the regents clerk rejected an appeal about the matter. A petition was sent to the state legislature and the plaintiff has not received a response. The plaintiff has the right to process. The problem in question could affect thousands of other students.

Relief is sought for two things: the aggravation caused by the refusal of administration to follow their own rules and for the financial burden caused by the costs associated with enrollment and attendance.

Damage amount sought:

punitive: $100,000,000

Actual: 3 years of wages and loan amount at $300,000

total: $100,300,000

It is also motioned that the court order the university to award credit and the deserved degree.
